

THE TOILET PAPER

"In a gentle way, you can shake the world."

ROLL 13S, TISSUE 4

KCECH, WEDNESDAY, 1/30/2012

SHAKE EDITION

SHAKIN' IT UP

Enjoy shakes? And burgers? Then you have probably heard of Shake Shack. A long time tasty treat for any New Yorker, and a recent discovery for us Philadelphian foodies.

The only downside to Shake Shack for us Penn students is that it is currently located at 20th and Sansom. And with our jam packed schedules, we do not have the time to make it all the way there for such deliciousness.

Fortunately that is about to change. Shake Shack will be opening a new location at 32nd and Chestnut this summer. Being far closer to Penn means that we hungry students who are craving a good shake and burger combo will now be able to at our leisure without worrying about time constraints.

The one downside to this new location is that it's on Drexel's campus. But the possibilities of deliciousness far outweigh the dreadful but necessary walk through their campus.

This new location promises a number of unique features including an outdoor patio to make it stand out from its Center City partner.

And because of its similarity to Bobby's Burger Palace, ETA Burger, and Spotburgers Food Truck, it will hopefully incite some new and healthy competition for these long standing companies. And that means better ideas and burgers for everyone!

WONDERLAND BY LEWIS HEART

With a spring in her step, Alice White bounded down the stairs to the breakfast table. Her mother, Carroll, called for her in the sing song way she always did. "Oh, Alice! Breakfast time."

As she reached the last step, her brother, Mathers, almost ran into her on his way back from the table, having eaten his breakfast at top speed as usual. In an undertone, he said, "Watch it, Wonderland."

She desperately wished to tell her mother about his annoying nickname. But she knew that would only create more trouble. And Alice hated trouble.

The first bit of trouble she had ever been in was when she was five or six. She couldn't recall exactly. She had snuck a rabbit into her room because she wanted to save it from the cold. Her mother's reaction to this was not one she wanted to ever experience again.

Alice finished her cake for breakfast in record time as she was nearly late for the bus to school. She bounded out the door, said goodbye to her mother with a kiss on the cheek, and skipped to the bus stop.

The bus arrived, prompt as it always was, at half past eight, and she got on. She walked to her usual lonely spot in the back and sat down.

As she sat down, she noticed that there was a boy sitting there. He did not speak and neither did she. But something about him and the fact that he was sitting in her usual spot told her that something was about to change.

She wondered what it could be given that the rules of this virtual world were so strict in what could and could not happen.

As she stared out the window at this virtual world that she and everyone else lived in, she yearned to see the wonderland that was the real world.

Oasis Product of the Week

REED'S GINGER ALE

On sale starting today at a low price of $1.50 (was $1.75).

2013-2014 MANAGERS' BOARD APPLICATIONS

Looking for a job for next year? Apply to be a KCECH manager. Open positions along with short descriptions are listed here.

Academic—Plans tutoring sessions throughout the semester and academic dinner discussions.

Communications—Writes and edits The Toilet Paper and manages the house's social media.

Perspectives in Humanities—Hosts GBMs and humanities events for the residential program. Also holds a Penn Authors Forum.

Mirage Café—Manages the café, trains its staff, schedules events hosted there, and cares for the equipment.

Women in Computer Science—Hosts GBMs, tech workshops, and field trips for the program.

Biosphere—Plans and organizes events for the program such as camping trips, ski trips, and helping with the KCECH courtyard garden.

For more descriptive information on the positions, or to apply, go to the links below.

kcech.house.upenn.edu/mgrboard bit.ly/kceapply13

JANUARY / FEBRUARY
SUN	MON	TUE	WED	THU	FRI	SAT
Calendar Key KCECH Penn Philly & Beyond	28 Dinner Discussion	29 Start-up Careers Workshop	30 India-Pakistan Conundrum	31 Dinner Discussion	1 Ice Skating	2 Groundhog Day Franklin Institute Movie Night
3 Superbowl Study Break	4 Al Gore	5 Taylor Branch Managers' Board Apply Deadline	6 76ers vs Indiana	7 Fiscal Cliff	8 Green Careers	9 Murder Mystery Dinner Managers' Board Interviews
10 Managers' Board Interviews	11 The Residents	12 WiCS Tech Workshop	13 Study Break	14 One Billion Rising Valentine's Day	15 Career Fair Prep When I Grow Up	16 Blind Boys of Alabama

Character of the Week

HEATHER BROMFIELD

I'm a KC1 RA hailing from South Florida and a senior studying Political Science,. These days I seem to spend most of my time studying other subjects like journalistic writing and mural art. I'm a big fan of the sun (so underrated) and foreign languages are a mild obsession. I still don't know what I want to be when I grow up, but I'll probably end up traveling, researching, writing, and/or doing service work. Stop by my room (KC106) to say "hi" and help me eat a giant jar of jelly beans.

Edited by Mike 'Merlin' Patterson

THE WEEK AHEAD: 1/31—2/6

1/31, TBD—Dinner Discussion. Join Dr. KC Tan in the PDR for a discussion on philosophy.

2/1, TBD—Ice Skating. Join the house in swarming the Class of 1923 Ice Skating Rink.

2/2, TBD—Franklin Institute. Learn all about science at the Franklin Institute with your housemates.

2/2, 8pm—Movie Night. Watch past Oscar winners in preparation for this year's upcoming award show in the TV Lounge. This week will be King's Speech

2/3, 6:30pm—Study Break. Nothing special for this one. Just the Superbowl. Only two teams that haven't been to the playoffs in over a decade.

2/5, 11:59pm—Managers' Board Apply Deadline. For more info and links to apply, read the article to the left.

2/6, TBD—76ers vs Indiana. Didn't satisfy your hunger for sports with the Superbowl? Then join the house in attending this basketball game.

SUPERBOWL POLL RESULTS

Overall, the house is split down the middle between the two teams.

English residents prefer the Ravens.

Kings Court residents favor the 49ers.

Female residents want the Ravens to win.

Male residents are rooting for the 49ers.

Email your articles, ideas, questions, or comments to kcechnews@gmail.com